

7.2 Best Practices

7.2.1 Best Practice- I

Title- Student Training Program (STP) Development and implementation

Objective:

1. To study the skill gap in terms of Knowledge, skill and attitude amongst the students.
2. To design the training program to develop the reading, writing, communication, aptitude & reasoning skills needed for business management.
3. To conduct the student training program.
4. To create entrepreneurs.

Context-

Students who are pursuing MBA program are from different socio, economic background and belong to mostly to towns and rural areas of state of Maharashtra and Rest of India. So it is necessary to bring all the students in terms of knowledge and skills and attitude. Therefore training session need to be conducted for developing communication skill, reading & writing skill, assessing the economic environment and career opportunities has become necessary.

The SKNSSBM has a strong association with industries. After the placement process the companies who have completed the placement cycle, give feedback to the Central Placement Cell regarding students' performance during the recruitment and selection process.

The Placement cell of the institute has identified requirement of the industries and groom the students accordingly based on the feedback received. It was observed that there is a great need for enhancing students 'employability. To fill the gap between industries requirement and academics, students need to improve their overall skills, practice for interview and selection procedures and improve their personality. Hence, the institute had decided to undertake Student

Training Programme (STP) every year. The Institute conducts a series of activities under Students' Training Program (STP) catering to Industry requirements to make students industry-ready.

The Practice:

Due to Conduction of STP modules in every semester students are aware about the corporate culture and the different skills which are required them compatible with the corporate world.

Under the STP (Student Training programme) different modules are covered like personal interviews, group discussions, Psychometric test, reading, writing, aptitude, reasoning, domain knowledge test are conducted to understand the Knowledge, skills and attitude and other behavior aspects of the students which are latent in nature.

Institute invites alumni and for giving guidance to students in the above areas, alumni and industry experts are invited. Faculty members, including STP coordinators conduct the different tests because of which students are able to identify areas of their strengths and weaknesses to improve them. Students are also given input to become proficient in English language.

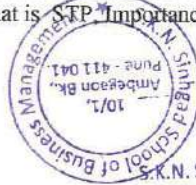

And trained about the verbal, non- verbal communication and body language.

Problems encountered and resources required

Training need identification for the students was a difficult task. It was overcome with the help of mentors of the students.

As STP is additional activity which is designed by institute for students benefit and it is not a part of the curriculum, it was observed that many students who are exam and marks-oriented didn't consider it seriously.. On observing this, the institute conducted STP guidance sessions, where STP coordinators explained about what is STP, Importance of STP, how it will help students and why they should all participate in it actively.
